Special Vote Asked On New High School

Responding to a plea from the high school building committee, municipal officials agreed Tuesday to call a Special Town Meeting for March 22 to consider a supplementary appropriation of from $500,000 to $700,000 for the high school construction budget.

Manager Richard Bowen called members of key boards and the school department together for a late afternoon meeting at which he admitted the impossibility of building the school now blueprinted for the $3.9 million appropriated in 1965.

The town can have the 1,200 student high school ready for September, 1967 or it can try a third reworking of designs in an attempt to effect further construction economies. But, said the manager, it cannot do both.

If you eliminate paper reductions planned for in the three weeks since bids for the building came in, the committee is short close to $850,000 on the total project. If the low bid contractor agrees to suggested economies totaling some $242,000, the net deficiency can be reduced to an estimated $600,000.

Stewart Chairman Is Proposed By Officials Rate Of $33

Selectman William Stewart was elected chairman of the municipal policy board at its Tuesday meeting, the first since the election.

The chairman was supported by a three-man majority upon nomination by Robert A. Watters. Responding to the voice vote were Stewart, Watters and Sidney P. White, newly elected member of the five man board. There was no roll call.

The board elected Robert A. Watters vice chairman and Roger Collins secretary. Selectman Collins nominated White for the post but White declined nominating Collins instead.

Before handing the gavel to Stewart, Retiring Chairman Philip K. Allen paid public tribute to Manager Richard Bowen for his "tireless and unselfish" work and to the manager's secretary, Mrs. Ruth Hitchings, who attends all official board meetings and maintains the board's records.

Following the election of officers, Roger Collins paid similar tribute to Chairman Allen for his long hours of service and his parliamentary skill. "He leaves a large pair of shoes to be filled," Collins said.

Upon the motion of Selectman White, the board voted to meet on the second and fourth Mondays of each month rather than on Tuesdays, a meeting night established within the past year.

Mr. White also indicated he preferred that the board hold its informal meetings on alternate Mondays rather than on Thursdays, as has been the practice since Manager Richard Bowen first scheduled the briefing conferences.

Bowen explained that the purpose of the Thursday meetings is to equip the board with background information etc. on matters to be considered at the regular meetings. He said he felt their value would be limited if they were not held within a few days of the public sessions.

It was finally decided that the briefing meetings for the present board will be held at noon on the first and third Thursdays, rather than at night.

Cheaper Power Is 1973 Possibility

Actual construction and engineering design is well underway on several of the generating plants which will become part of New England's "Big Eleven Power-loop."

With an operational target date of fall, 1967, the 500,000 kilowatt Connecticut Yankee Atomic Power Co.'s nuclear generating station at Haddam Neck, Conn., is more than 40 per cent complete at this time. A second nuclear generating facility, to be known as the Millstone Nuclear Power Station, has been proposed for Waterford, Conn., on a site bordering Long Island Sound. Tentative schedule calls for this plant to be completed in 1969.

Slated to begin commercial operation in the summer of 1968, the conventionally fueled 560,000 KW Canal Generating Plant of the New England Gas and Electric Assn. is presently a month ahead of schedule. Stone & Webster Engineering Co. has completed the massive concrete and steel bed, and the concrete columns on which the turbine generator will rest and has also completed the dredging of a fuel-ship berthing basin alongside the Cape Cod Canal in Sandwich.

And still another project underway is an additional 650,000 KW conventional generating unit at the giant Brayton Point Station of New England Electric System.

Boston Edison Co., Central Maine Power Co. and Central Vermont Public Service Co. have all announced plans for construction of nuclear generating facilities are presently considering sites. Two week's ago Western Massachusetts Electric Co. announced plans for a 20-mile recreational development from Turner's Falls, Mass. to the Vernon Dam along the banks of the Connecticut River, in conjunction with proposed construction of a one-million kilowatt pumped storage hydroelectric plant on Northfield Mountain.

All of these facilities will be linked by 700 miles of new, extra high voltage power lines to serve all six New England states, the southern portion of which is completed from New York to the Massachusetts border in the form of 345 KW "backbone" transmission line. By 1973, it is estimated that these big plants and lines will be producing and transmitting about 65 per cent of the energy the customers will be using at about half of the present average cost.

Rummage Sale For Wanderers

Mrs. John Lewis, sale chairman, has announced that anyone who wishes to make donations of clothing, household goods or any other useful items for the sale should contact her or her committee. Mrs. Joel Labell, Mrs. Claus Dengler and Mrs. Robert Osborne are assisting her.

83 YEARS OLD, the repeater, control panel (center) and emergency battery power set-up that comprise the fire alarm system at Andover's Central Fire Station. Installed in 1882, Chief Henry Hilton says the last alterations were made prior to 1920. The antique system is simple to work on, but requires constant maintenance for which the chief himself assumes most of the responsibility. A new alarm system will be among the modern equipment designed into plans for a new central fire station if Town Meeting approves a construction allocation.

Town Meeting Saturday

Town Meeting will convene at 9:30 a.m. Saturday in Memorial Auditorium at Andover Junior High School.

Voters will collect to consider a 65 article Warrant, including for consideration such major items as requests for appropriations to cover the cost of a tax equalization survey and construction of a new central fire station.

The TOWNSMAN pinpoints some of the key articles and supplies background information in this series of Warrant capsules.

Article 8 - For the appropriation or transfer of $51,337.35 for roadway improvements.

This article simply transfers from available funds money already given Andover by the Commonwealth for permanent road improvements to supplement community appropriations. It must be spent (for road improvements only) within two years or returned to the state. One probable use: some resurfacing for North Main Street, particularly the hill.

Article 9 - For appropriation of $45,000 for a property value equalization study. (Or $40,000, as recommended by the Finance Committee.)

Proposed by the Board of Assessors, backed by the manager, and unanimously supported by the Finance Committee and the Board of Selectmen, this article is intended to bring assessments in line with current market values.

It would update the reassessment survey of nine years ago. It would not involve house-to-house interviews but it would include visual examination of all properties. And it would include a detailed sales analysis.

The aim: To see that each taxpayer carries his fair share of the load. The impetus: publicized sales within the past year which indicate that some properties are worth two to three times more in today's real estate market than their assessed valuations would indicate.

Article 12 - Appropriation of $700,000 for construction of a new central fire station on Stevens Street.

Town officials expect the appropriation total for this article will be reduced from the floor of Town Meeting to something approximately $500,000 - $600,000. The manager expects to have tighter figures for space allocations by that time, along with appraisals on the land to be used and a clearer idea of how much Federal aid may be involved.

The plan is to replace the present central fire station, which dates to the days of horse-and-buggy wagon firefighting, with a modern installation off North Main Street.

Present planning calls for construction of a Civil Defense emergency center in the basement (similar to that built in Lawrence) and for which 50% Federal matching will be available.

Article 13 - To appropriate the sum of $225,000 for the construction of three wells and the necessary mains etc. to connect them to the town water system.

A conditional article, dependent upon the town's success with a present geological survey. If suitable and economical ground water supplies are found, the wells would be driven. Otherwise, the funds would revert to the town treasury.

Article 14 - For appropriation of $250,000 for water mains on sections of North Main Street, River Road and Cross Street and High Place Road.

The contemplated improvements would increase the flow, not the water supply in the area. Greater pressure is needed for firefighting requirements, particularly for sections zoned for industry.

Article 18 - For appropriation of $25,000 for the planning and making of improvements at Ponds Pond, with the understanding that state or federal aid would be sought. Approved by the Finance Committee, in the amount of $15,000.

Rather than approve this article as submitted, the Finance Committee has agreed to a partial appropriation to cover the cost of a feasibility study. The study would be directed at determining what, if anything, can be done to improve conditions at Ponds Pond where the water is frequently too muddy to permit swimming, particularly in dry weather. The article, as written, would provide funds for immediate dredging, enlarging etc.

Articles 28 and 29 - Private articles calling for construction of sewer mains in Wild Rose Drive and Holly Terrace and in Shipman Road.

The Finance Committee has disapproved both these articles, taking objection not to the projects themselves but to the proposed method of financing.

The committee takes the position that the town should not function as a finance agency for such projects appropriating funds that will affect the tax rate.

It would prefer to see the town jump such projects together, sell bonds and collect betterment assessments. The end result would be the same and would not increase the cost for the individual property owners involved.

Article 37 - A private article to authorize the selectmen to sell a plot of town owned property on Lupine Road for not less than $1,200.

A similar article, sought by Augustine Sheehy, last year was defeated following objection from the floor by the proponent of this article, Mr. Westhaver and some others objected to the businessman's plan to provide garage facilities for his trucking concern if he acquired the property.

Article 40 - For an amendment to the building code that increases charges for building and electrical permits.

The schedule of fees proposed (printed in detail in the Warrant) is proposed as a means of putting the town's building service departments on a self support footing.

Article 43 - For a new by-law which would require dog owners to leash or otherwise restrict their animals.

The town manager points out that this article does not call for any appropriation to support the program suggested.

He says the first-year's cost for such a service could run as high as $25,000 - $30,000. It would necessitate the hiring of a full time dog officer, the construction of a pound and the purchase of a truck.

The present dog officer is a part-time employee who uses his own vehicle.

Article 51 - A private article to rezone residential land at the corner of Stevens and North Main Sts. as an extension of the general industrial zone.

The Planning Board expressed opposition to this article at a pre-Town Meeting hearing on the grounds that a switch in the zoning of this lot, which is on the corner of Main and Stevens Streets, could lead to the commercialization of the remaining residential strip across from MacDonalds and the Shawheen Plaza.

A similar article, sought by Augustine Sheehy, last year was defeated following objection from the floor by the proponent of this article. Mr. Westhaver and some others objected to the businessman's plan to provide garage facilities for his trucking concern if he acquired the property.

Article 40 — For an amendment to the building code that increases charges for building and electrical permits.

The schedule of fees proposed (printed in detail in the Warrant) is proposed as a means of putting the town's building service departments on a self support footing.

Article 43 — For a new by-law which would require dog owners to leash or otherwise restrict their animals.

The town manager points out that this article does not call for any appropriation to support the program suggested.

He says the first-year's cost for such a service could run as high as $25,000 - $30,000. It would necessitate the hiring of a full time dog officer, the construction of a pound and the purchase of a truck.

The present dog officer is a part-time employee who uses his own vehicle.

Article 51 — A private article to rezone residential land at the corner of Stevens and North Main Sts. as an extension of the general industrial zone.

The Planning Board expressed opposition to this article at a pre-Town Meeting hearing on the grounds that a switch in the zoning of this lot, which is on the corner of Main and Stevens Streets, could lead to the commercialization of the remaining residential strip across from MacDonalds and the Shawheen Plaza.

VOTERS - KNOW THIS . . .

An Open Letter to the Residents of Andover . . .

Andover has become the crossing place of two great highways. Now indeed our town stands at a crossroads in its history. So far, with few exceptions, we have experienced orderly growth -- a growth given shape and direction by homeowners with an interest in their community and pride in the upkeep of their property. Almost overnight this could change.

Already out-of-town developers, eager to exploit the convenience of the highways, have appeared before Andover's Planning Board. On March 12th these developers will appear at Town Meeting to continue their drive to have a parcel of land located at the intersection of Routes 93 and 133 spot rezoned from residential land to land for apartment house construction.

The smoothly persuasive arguments of the developers will include a sketch of a low-rise garden apartment complex containing 125 family units. They will stress increased revenue to the town. But what they will not stress is increased cost to the town. Nor will they mention the fact that a zoning change from Single Residence C to Apartment District leaves them free to use apartment plans quite different from those they describe, once the land is rezoned. On this point Andover must be particularly alert. At public hearings before the planning board, these developers showed a portfolio of apartment buildings, revealing many high-rise structures and tower apartments. Under pressure to maximize their profit, what must their true plans for Andover be?

Mass housing projects bring problems. Congested traffic, overcrowded schools, and insufficient water resources lead inevitably to persistent rises in taxes for additional police and fire services, new schools, and increased resources. But these problems do not concern those who over-build and then depart. Nor does the character of a community concern those who over-build and then depart.

We believe that Andover welcomes growth -- a growth that proceeds in a controlled and orderly manner, not in a helter-skelter fashion that will disrupt our residential areas where those with faith in the continuity of zoning built homes based on this faith. We believe that Andover can grow and still remain a beautiful town. But crowding the borders of superhighways with apartment projects will hide the beauty of our town from residents and travelers alike. It would be a tragedy if the town we love succumbs to the blight which inevitably starts when areas are ravaged for the sake of a quick profit for a few people.

We appeal to all the residents of Andover to join us at the March 12th Town Meeting in a vote to preserve the character of Andover, by voting against Article 55 which would spot rezone residential property for apartment house construction.

Little League Keeps Growing

Within the past five or six years, Andover has grown at such a rate that it has taken maximum effort for Little League officials to keep abreast of their goal - a spot for every young boy who wants to play supervised baseball.

To meet this goal, and the requirements of the National Little League, the Andover organization has expanded its operation in almost every year since 1960. In this period, the League mushroomed from a team registration of 375 boys to something approximating 525. In 1966, it is estimated that at least 600 boys will be accommodated.

The teams are structured to make it possible for each interested boy to have as much opportunity to play as time will allow. In the early 1960's, many of the Minor League teams were made up of 20 boys each, and occasionally there were 22 or 23 on a team. The number of players assigned to a team usually depends upon the availability of adults willing to work with boys. When the League is short of adult supervisors, it must enlarge team enrollments.

The League has a minimum requirement of one adult for each five team members, and it enlists their help as managers, coaches, umpires and across-the-board workers. Because of its plans for fielding 35 teams for the 1966 season, the League is looking to expand its roster of interested adults.

Planned is a National League with five uniformed major and nine minor teams; an American League with five uniformed major teams and two minor leagues of six teams each; a Senior Division of four teams.

Each major league and senior division team will have a roster of 15 boys each, while 17 or 18 boys will play on minor league teams.

What is programmed represents an increase of five teams, or room for 60 to 70 more boys than played in 1965. The expanded organization will also permit a reduction in the size of minor league teams.

The League is operated by a 13 man board of directors, elected each year at the November annual meeting. The board elects six of its men to administer the program.

Officers of the 1966 board are: R. Wayne Long, president; Daniel Issenberg, first vice president; Joseph Tassinari, second vice president; William A. Doyle Jr., secretary; and Robert S. Hamilton, treasurer. Other directors are Kenneth Jones, Edward Morrissey, William Gibson, John Burns, Gerald Silverman, George Haseltine and Walter Boland. In addition, the board is assisted by an equipment manager, Howard Hamilton, and a finance chairman, Robert G. Barenboim.

The responsibilities of these men parallel those of any corporate board of directors and officers. The planning effort required to obtain finances and personnel for operations of the organization is a 12-month function not just a spring and summer job as some may suspect. League funds for operations are obtained in several ways. The major source of income is subscription advertising in the annual booklet. This advertising is subscribed for by local merchants, industry, societies, professional men and private individuals. Additional sources of income include tag day sales and proceeds from the dance sponsored by the Leagueettes, a group of Little League mothers who devote time and energy to the organization during the spring of each year. All mothers are welcome to join.

Raytheon Is Teachers Mend Fences Commended With Public Statement

The Air Force Reserve has commended Raytheon Co. for liberal employee policies that proved to be of invaluable support to the reserve in fiscal 1965-66.

The citation, presented on behalf of Brigadier General Royal Patch, commanding general, First Air Force Reserve Region, Stewart Air Force Base, New York, was presented to Vartkes Sohigian, industrial relations manager for the company's Hawk missile plant in Andover. Capt. John P. Sorgini, information officer for the 2491 Air Force Reserve Sector, represented the general.

Among comments in the citation: "The company's policy of compensating employees for loss of pay resulting from duty with the Air Force Reserve by making up the difference between the military and company pay is a tribute to the Raytheon Co.'s dedicated interest in the national defense of the United States. Rescheduling of vacations to satisfy military requirements of reservists-employees, the active support of armed forces day observances at Lawrence airport, and allowing internal recruiting exemplify the company's understanding and appreciation of the Air Force Reserve, which reflects great credit upon the company as an active supporter of peace and freedom for the people of the world."

Distressed by what it feels is public misconception of its position on matters before the School Committee, the Andover Teachers' Assn. released a statement last week "to contribute to mutual understanding."

The association referred to public comments, particularly two made by Dino Valz, 17 Stratford Rd., whose letter to the editor appeared in the Feb. 10 issue of the TOWNSMAN. In his letter, Mr. Valz objected to the fact that Andover school administrators are members of the association which is to represent local teachers in future collective bargaining, now permitted by state law.

Said the teachers: "We have read statements about which 'side' teachers or administrators are on and about a 'conspiracy' against the town. Rather than enter into an argument over these and similar statements, we prefer to clearly state the position of the Andover Teachers' Assn.

1. We continue to welcome evaluation of teachers, a practice which has been going on for many years in Andover.

2. We agree that situations may prompt the withholding of salary increments or the granting of double increments.

3. The entire educational staff in Andover works as a unit to provide top quality education for the children of the community. This is our only purpose.

4. We consider it incumbent upon our organization to represent all members of our professional staff who voluntarily select us as their representatives."

Anniversary Reported

John B. Harley, 7 Amherst Rd., will celebrate his 40th anniversary of Bell System service on March 17. He is an electrical engineer in the Carrier Terminal Department at the Merrimack Valley laboratory of Bell Telephone Laboratories, North Andover.

Since 1946, he has specialized in transmission systems development and has worked on mobile radio telephone systems, microwave radio telephone systems and currently on a multiplex carrier telephone system.

Mr. Harley, who has been granted eight patents for his inventions, is a senior member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers and a member of the honor societies Eta Kappa Nu and Tau Beta Pi.

A native of New York City, Mr. Harley received the E. E. degree from Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute in 1936.

Mr. Harley and his wife, Edith, have lived in Andover for five years. They have a daughter, Mrs. Carl Johnson of North Olmsted, Ohio.

SPECIAL MEETING

Officials are to collect figures for a revised movable equipment estimate which is the variable that will determine the amount of the Town Meeting request.

Whatever is ultimately proposed must be approved in advance of the vote by the Finance Committee because of regulations governing special town meetings held for the purpose of appropriating money.

As now scheduled, the meeting will be held March 22 at 8 p.m. in the auditorium at Andover Junior High School. The Warrant was opened Tuesday evening and will be closed at 4:30 p.m. today. Also under consideration for addition to the special Warrant: a land acquisition article which would authorize the taking of two pieces of property for elementary school sites.

Reasons Outlined

In reporting on the deadlocked school situation, Manager Bowen reminded officials that the building has been completely redesigned since the last Town Meeting considered and rejected the $4.2 million request in 1965.

He recalled that the Building Committee's initial budget was $4.4 million which was trimmed, at the request of the Finance Committee and the Board of Selectmen, in advance of Town Meeting.

Voters then lopped another $200,000 from the cost estimate

Reasons Outlined
In reporting on the deadlocked school situation, Manager Bowen reminded officials that the building has been completely redesigned since Town Meeting considered and rejected the $4.2 million requested in 1965.

He recalled that the Building Committee's initial budget was $4.4 million which was trimmed, at the request of the Finance Committee and the Board of Selectmen, in advance of Town Meeting.

Voters then lopped another $200,000 from the cost estimate.

by eliminating a proposed auditorium.

Unfortunately, said Bowen, eliminating the auditorium also eliminated teaching stations that had to be designed into the main body of the building. Attempts to do this without major redesign proved unsatisfactory he said. He told the group that what is now on the drawing boards is a completely different building than that discussed at last year's Town Meeting.

The costly necessity for enlarging the main body of the building to accommodate teaching space eliminated with the auditorium, advancing construction costs in the intervening months, the fact that the low bid contractor elects to use the fourth low bidder for the masonry contract and understated equipment estimates were among factors cited by the manager as explanations for the budget-bid differential.

Time Critical

Asked by Sidney P. White, newly elected selectman, if it would be better at this juncture to reconsider the $4.2 million school previously offered, Manager Bowen said "No."

He pointed out that picking up with that proposal now would mean additional time losses that would certainly eliminate the possibility of meeting the Sept. 1, 1967 opening deadline. He reminded the boards that school officials have said double sessions will be necessary if additional space is not available by the fall of 1967.

"Time is the most critical factor at this point," Bowen said. He said construction should be started on the building by April 1 if it is to be completed on schedule. He added that the town only has until March 29 to accept or reject the general contract low bid of approximately $3.9 million which was received earlier this month.

Site development costs and architectural fees are in addition to this figure.

In the absence of the full School Committee, William Doherty expressed his personal interest in asking voters to approve funds for the whole of the deficit. He said he felt it would be a mistake to make some of the changes under discussion (i.e. folding, accordion-type doors as dividers for the gym instead of the heavier, somewhat soundproof separators drawn into the plans), and that later replacements and changes of the cheaper items under consideration would probably be necessary.

Softball League

An organizational meeting for the Andover Softball League will be held at Andover Recreation Park at 8 p.m. March 18, Recreation Director Leslie Bartow said Tuesday.

Bartow also reports that his department is exploring the possibility of organizing a 4-H horse club.

ROUND TABLE

A roundtable discussion of the experiences of families who have had underprivileged city children in their homes is scheduled for the Women's Evening Circle of West Parish Church tonight at 7:45 p.m.

Mrs. Philip Thomes, chairman of the meeting, has invited all Andover women interested in the "friendly town program" to attend. She will be assisted by Mrs. Emil DesRoches, Miss Edna Gould, Miss Florence Brimblecom, Mrs. Kenneth Hudson, Mrs. Thomas Sutton and Mrs. Arthur Sevigny.

The man who keeps everlastingly at it is apt to accomplish a lot of things that are not worth the effort.

Annual CO-OP Business (& Social) Meeting

Next Tuesday evening, March 15, a unique event takes place in Andover. It is the annual business meeting of the Andover Consumers Co-operative.

Coming only a few days after the town's annual business meeting, the CO-OP's meeting will do in the sphere of consumer economics what the town meeting does in the area of self-government.

One (but not the only) unique quality of this business corporation is that it dignifies and enhances the role of the individual by giving to each shareholder a single vote regardless of his financial stake in the business. This is democratic capitalism in action.

This meeting will be as human as it is democratic. At the Indian Ridge Country Club next Tuesday evening sociability and good nourishment will be graciously combined with the serious business of the Cooperative to demonstrate that we are sociable consumers as well as business capitalists.

Chafe

Pharmacies sell remedies that treat chafed skin quickly and easily. The word "chafe," however, has not always denoted injury.

In Middle English, the term chaufen was originally used to mean "to warm" (as in today's chafing dish) . . . and later signified the process of keeping warm by rubbing the hands.

Because the rubbing was sometimes too vigorous, and the skin became irritated, the meaning of the word was extended to include an untreated or rubbed area of raw skin.

New Addison Involves View

An art exhibit that provides a demonstration of the many realities of projection - realities re-created through individual experiences of the mind - will be at the Addison Gallery of American Art and April 10.

Making use of projected images, the show is spread through four darkened rooms. In the first, the visitor suddenly finds himself part of the reality as a light beam creates his shadow on the wall. In a second room, two dimensional images take on a three dimensional look as light is reflected through vari-colored plastic constructions which rotate in suspension.

Standard projection equipment is used in the third room to demonstrate the most effective current techniques for projecting images, and in the fourth room the observer is surrounded by moving images, projected light, reflected light and projected sound.

What is reality? Are these projected images the real reality - or the illusion of it? To become absorbed in this exhibition is to be confronted with many questions on the nature of reality, the differences between the apparent and the actual.

Collaborating to produce "Projections" were members of the Phillips Academy Department of Art: Bartlett H. Hayes Jr., Gordon Bunsley, Christopher Cook, Alvisius Hobausz, Robert Lloyd and August Jacacci. William Cross, from Yale's Graduate School of Architecture, constructed two of the works shown; other artists represented are Horacio Garcia-Romei and Bruce Connor, both of whose works were loaned through the courtesy of the Rose Art Museum, Brandeis University.

To the Voters of Andover

At the Town Meeting you will be asked to approve Article 56 of the Warrant to rezone slightly over 31 acres for development of a major shopping center. The land to be rezoned is on Route 133 at the juncture of Route 495 along the Andover-Tewksbury line and is adjacent to 400 acres of industrially-zoned land in Tewksbury.

As evidence of the good faith of our intentions, we have already made a substantial investment in Andover in the packaging of the land for the shopping center. We have faith in the future of Andover and we hope to be a part of that future.

Immediately upon receiving approval from the Town, work will begin on the center, which will offer approximately 500,000 square feet of prestige shopping facilities . . . with by far the major portion of the center's buildings located in Andover. When completed, the taxable valuation of the portion in Andover could exceed $3,500,000. This amount of valuation at the 1965 rate would produce over $100,000 in taxes for the Town.

We believe that you will share our pride in the high quality and beautifully modern shopping center we propose to develop. We are confident of its success and the contribution it will make to the Town of Andover.

Chafe

Pharmacies sell remedies that treat chafed skin quickly and easily. The word "chafe," however, has not always denoted injury.

In Middle English, the term chaufen was originally used to mean "to warm" (as in today's chafing dish) . . . and later signified the process of keeping warm by rubbing the hands.

Because the rubbing was sometimes too vigorous, and the skin became irritated, the meaning of the word was extended to include an untreated or rubbed area of raw skin.

A Clear Victory

Monday's election was a clear cut victory for the Old Guard.

It returned to office a man whose 24 years of Town Hall experience pre-dates the manager charter. And it sent to the School Committee a political novice who drew his strongest campaign support from Old Andover stalwarts.

What it means for Andover has yet to be determined. Neither candidate advanced any sort of specific program for the future during the campaign; each restricted himself to broad declarations.

Mr. White took as his theme, Experience Counts. Mr. Fitzgerald promised peace for the School Committee. Each held out a hope to the voters for an administration capable of coping with growth and change decisively, and with a minimum of conflict.

We wish them luck, and pledge the TOWNSMAN'S full support for any constructive program that will substitute order for muddle.

But we do not expect miracles.

One-half To Go

One-half down: One-half to go.

With the election out of the way, Town Meeting is half over. What remains is the gathering of the municipal clan for a confrontation with the Warrant on Saturday.

In spite of the fact that it is not a highly controversial agenda, there are some articles worthy of a quorum.

To tick off a few:

- The manager has asked for $45,000 for a tax equalization survey. The Finance Committee has approved $40,000 and given the project its unanimous blessing.

The object is to update records collected when the town went through a wholesale reassessment about 10 years ago, bringing what has gotten out of whack into line.

It is difficult to deny the need for such an updating. Transfers of downtown and farm properties within the past year for prices two and three times assessed valuations are indisputable evidence that some Andover land is worth considerably more in the market place than could be surmised from tax records. Beyond this, Andover assessors see the need for a general rechecking to pinpoint lesser discrepancies.

Logic supports adoption of an article that proposes to see that the tax burden is equitably distributed.

- The town government has asked authorization for a $700,000 central fire station to replace the horse-and-buggy installation on Park Street.

It is probable that this figure will be scaled down at Town Meeting as tighter cost estimates come in. But the voters should not flinch at any price tag within reason for a project so long overdue. Andover is operating modern fire fighting equipment out of a barn that is shored up by a maze of lally columns that could confuse the nimblest of trained mice.

It is functioning out of one of the most congested sections of the midtown business district and answering calls rung in on a communications system that dates to 1882.

The move for a new fire station in a new location should be supported.

- It is less obvious what stand should be taken on the A. J. Tambone article for rezoning of some West Andover Andover's business is big business now and its problems with growth are far from ended. It will be some years before she can settle down to working out all the kinks that infect any organization that expands abnormally.

As for the noise in the school department, it is likely to get considerably worse before it gets better. The public has chosen to assault educational ivory towers, nationwide, and as the people get more and more inquisitive about the educational process, it is certain to be reflected at the policy level. Who is to deny the right of the man who pays the piper to call the tune?

On both fronts, our major administrative boards face problems in 1966 that belong to this Andover and no other. The prospect of a cooperative role in a costly pollution abatement venture and the fresh concerns that are certain to come with implementation of the new municipal employees collective bargaining law — to list but two.

We hope, with the electorate, that the boards which reorganized this week are prepared to meet whatever comes without regard for any loyalties except those to the town of Andover.

acreage to permit construction of a shopping center.

Andover can approve the rezoning and gamble that the Reading contractor will go ahead with his construction plans, that he will build the sort of quality shopping complex that he envisions and that the proximity of such a center will stimulate rather than stifle activity in the downtown business district.

On the other hand, Andover can gamble that Mr. Tambone will shelve his plans if he cannot have the Andover address he says potential tenants seem to prefer. It is a gamble that could block the whole project — or toss it right across the line into Tewksbury, leaving Andover with the headaches (if there are to be any) and bereft of tax revenues.

We are persuaded by Mr. Tambone's firm declaration this week that he WILL build his shopping center. This being the case, Andover has only to decide whether or not it is interested in the tax revenue from 90 percent of a $3-4 million project.

- The vote on Poms Pond should reflect the public's thinking about the future. If Andover wants to continue with a summer recreation program developed around a natural swimming hole, it must vote to at least look into what can be done to improve conditions at Poms.

If, on the other hand, it wants to dispense with the informality of a pond beach and switch to a swimming program centered around a municipal pool, now is the time to look ahead to that eventuality.

For our part, we favor preservation and improvement of the pond as a permanent recreation facility. Andover's continued growth will certainly bring later need for additional swimming facilities, but this need not interfere with providing future swimmers with a choice between sand and cement.

We concur with the Finance Committee, however, in supporting appropriation of funds for a feasibility study to precede any allocation for extensive improvements.

There is more — much more — in a 65 article Warrant that deserves careful voter attention. Whether or not it gets it depends upon how many taxpayers collect at Memorial Auditorium at 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

tion for taxes only if they are imposed on you.

Q. I would like to know if funeral expenses are deductible? Also, if my husband passed away in 1965 can I file a joint tax form for 1965?

A. No. Funeral expenses are not deductible.

Yes, You are entitled to file a joint return for the year 1965. If you have a refund coming you must: 1) File a copy of the death certificate; 2) file a form 1310; 3) any children over 21 years of age must complete Waiver Form 757. These forms are available at your nearest Internal Revenue Office.

Q. My youngest is allergic to milk, therefore he has to have a liquid hypo-allergenic food. It cost over $180.00 a year. Could this possibly be deductible under medicines or any other expense?

A. No. The cost of special food or beverages does not qualify as a medical expense where they are taken as a substitute for food or beverage normally consumed.

Q. When you add up your medical expenses, can you include premiums paid for hospital insurance?

A. Yes you can. Remember to reduce your actual medical expenses by any reimbursement you receive from this insurance.

Q. What kind of records should I keep for my income tax return, that I might have to produce if my return is examined?

A. Keep whatever you need to substantiate the income and deductions on your return. Cancelled checks, paid bills, forms W-2 and 1099, bank books and similar records will be helpful.

Q. Do my wife and I both have to be 65 to be able to deduct all our medical expenses?

A. No. If either of you are 65 or over at the end of the tax year then all medical expenses for you and your wife may be deducted. In this situation the expenses are not subject to the 3 percent limitation on medical expenses or the 1 percent limitation for medicine and drugs.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago — March, 1891

W. H. Higgins has added to his stock a comfortable looking back, which will supply many needs of his trade.

The weaving bill, as amended by Sen. Bradley, passed the Senate yesterday... The principal section of the bill is: "No employer shall impose a fine upon, or withhold the wages or any part of the wages of, an employee engaged in weaving, for imperfections that may arise during the process of weaving."

F. A. Dinsmore has just added a 12-horse-power boiler to his cleaning department on Park St., and is better prepared than ever to do this work for which he is fast gaining a reputation.

Don't suffer to let Lent pass without "weighing" yourself. You will find it in the end more profitable than weighing your neighbors.

West Parish should be happy — two Selectmen and an orator who could get $2,500 out of the Town Meeting gathering Monday, makes that part of our town the business section for this year. The stone crusher will find no harder material to break than the wall of "economy and retrenchment" that faced Supt. Lovejoy at the opening of his speech. May it grind the stones along Andover streets as fine...

About 200 citizens were brought together by the Free Church Methodist Club Tuesday for a discussion of the articles in the Town Warrant.

Our Readers Say-

To the Editor of the Townsman

Recently I've been reading the roundup of articles reflecting the condition and future of women in various areas of the world. They range from an English argument that tends to re-establish the principle that women are different from men and hence should be treated differently to a report of the growing equality of the sexes in Tunis. Along the way I glimpse the Soviet woman who cannot be a housewife, the French woman who wants to be different from the plus Italian, African and Hungarian women.

But nowhere in the world is more time and money spent on the fascinating subject, the American woman. She is currently being dissected, truncated, studied, analyzed, queried, diagnosed, revised, stylized, emphasized, traced, explained, defended, glorified, petrified, fossilized, traumatized — with something of the same elan that a laboratory technician brings to the study of a mouse in a maze.

The pundits should heed and then rest on these few well chosen words of a wise young lady:

"Why must our brains be picked by every self-styled sociologist who owns a typewriter? I am the same as Eve. There have been complex women, simple women, intellectual women, and unfeeling women since Adam handed over his rib."

"Yes, your social environment will shape some of your external characteristics. But the guts of your femininity is something you are born with. That secret, brooding world of being a woman is your most intimate self. And it doesn't matter what your occupation is, your education, or your income bracket. It just isn't affected except as it would be by you, being yourself, no matter what your circumstances."

"Having children is no guarantee of femininity. Nor is having a successful job. Femininity is your attitude toward yourself. It's whether or not you feel like a woman. And that comes from a deeply within oneself that society and its mores can't tamper with it."

Announcement of the presentation to the school is made by John McQuaid, vice president of Tyer Rubber. Other Greater Lawrence sponsors of the new book were Western Electric Co. and Bolton-Emerson Inc.

The rich heritage of industrial enterprise in the Bay State is told in 22 chapters, each of which reveals the historical significance of manufacturing, the chief economic force in Massachusetts. Today's metalworking firms, for example, are in part the growth of the copper and brass industry founded by the patriot, Paul Revere, who was originally an artisan in silver. The book describes the developments that led from those days to the modern contributions of local companies to the achievements of space travel.

Writing, editing and production of the book was under the direction of Associated Industries of Massachusetts, and represents the combined efforts of many individuals.

Brook Job Is Speeded

The contractor laying the transmission main on the Fish Brook water project had completed about 59 percent of his work as of Feb. 28. Roughly 87 percent of the allotted construction time had elapsed when the month-end report was filed with the town manager.

Robert E. McQuade of Camp, Dresser & McKee, engineering consultants, reported that the contractor had put on a second crew which began its work at the existing main under Route 495 and would work toward Haggett's Pond. Crews are working seven days a week.

McQuade said progress had been slowed somewhat because of ledge found in the area and because of ground conditions resulting from thawing.

The super structure of the pumping station was 35 percent complete and the contractor was expecting immediate delivery of the last two of four pumps.

At the end of February, the spillway was 90 percent completed.

Poverty Tab Running High

"Even In the Great Society, it would be cheaper to send the unemployed to Harvard."

That wry editorial comment comes from the Charleston, South Carolina, News and Courier. It has to do with some revealing facts concerning training projects in Virginia, as disclosed by Senator Robertson of that state. Examples:

36 unemployed kitchen helpers were being trained at a cost of $33,601. Sixty unemployed persons were being trained as nurses' aides at a cost of $78,390. Eighteen unemployed workers were being trained as bricklayers at a cost of $70,579.

Senator Robertson reportedly did a little arithmetic and found it cost $3,921 to train each bricklayer and $5,497 to train each plumber's helper.

Dramatics Teacher Workshop Director

Mrs. A. Allen Gass, a former dramatics teacher, is director for the Andover Children's Theatre Workshop production of "The Emperor's New Clothes," now in rehearsal.

Experienced in the field of children's theater, Mrs. Gass selected the Charlotte Chorprenning play for the local troupe because the story and characters are "so appealing and believable to young actors."

She brings to her job background gained as a member of the Children's Theatre in Portland, Maine, a theatrical group known for having originated the idea of hauling a stage to parks and playgrounds on a trailer. The Maine group introduced its concept to those attending the National Children's Theatre Conference in New York in 1949.

Anne Gass continued her work in Children's Theatre as a student at Skidmore College where, under the direction of Margaret Ellen Clifford-Grallcourt, she studied the art of theater for children. Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Gass taught dramatics for two years at Luther Gulick Camps in Maine. Then, along with time out to raise a family of six children, she continued her work in Canada where in a Toronto suburb, she initiated a course in creative dramatics for children.

The local children's group is readying its 10th year production for performances March 19 and 20, both scheduled for 2:30 p.m. at Andover Junior High School Auditorium.

Girl Scout Week Observed By 8,000

More than 8,000 girls in the Merrimack River Girl Scout Council are carrying out projects involving service to God, country and other people in observance of Girl Scout Week, March 6-12. Theme of the special week is "Girl Scouting - A Promise in Action".

Six local Senior Girl Scouts who attended the national Roundup held last July in Farragut, Idaho, received letters this week mailed by Mrs. Holton R. Price Jr., president of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. Sharon Briggs, Ruth Wesolowski, Deborah Godin, Darcy Kirk, Lynn, Abbagh and Denise Walker had each addressed her own envelope. It contained a promise she made to herself at the end of the two-week encampment. Mrs. Price sent similar envelopes to each of the 8,000 Senior Scouts who attended the summer roundup.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Charles Tremblay, Girl Scout Troop 100 made place cards for the Cole Nursing Home. Six promises to help at home for a six-month period were made by Troop 447 led by Mrs. Anita Moulton. Elizabeth M. Campbell, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Campbell, 54 High St., was married on Feb. 12 to SSGT George E. Oakes Jr., son of George Oakes of South Boston.

More than 8,000 girls in the Merrimack River Girl Scout Council are carrying out projects involving service to God, country and other people in observance of Girl Scout Week, March 6-12. Theme of the special week is "Girl Scouting - A Promise in Action".

Six local Senior Girl Scouts who attended the national Roundup held last July in Farragut, Idaho, received letters this week mailed by Mrs. Holton R. Price Jr., president of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. Sharon Briggs, Ruth Wesolowski, Deborah Godin, Darcy Kirk, Lynn Babbagh and Denise Walker had each addressed her own envelope. It contained a promise she made to herself at the end of the two-week encampment. Mrs. Price sent similar envelopes to each of the 9,000 Senior Scouts who attended the summer roundup.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Charles Tremblay, Girl Scout Troop 100 made place cards for the Cole Nursing Home. Six promises to help at home for a six-month period were made by Troop 447 led by Mrs. Anita Moulton. Mrs. Fred Tarbox helped Troop 17 collect clothes for Cuban refugees in Lawrence and plan a musical for the North Reading Rehabilitation Center. Troop 73 and its leader, Mrs. Donald Sagaser, are making a weekly visit to a four-year boy who is confined to his bed. Mrs. Edward Lindholm and Troop 54 gave a tea for retiring volunteers.

Troop 77 Cadette Girl Scouts are observing this special week and passing a challenge for "social dependability" today when they entertain 18 Brownies of Troop 447, led by Mrs. William Moulton. Hostesses for the party at the Free Christian Church will be Jacqueline O'Brien, Katherine McKeon, Mary Lou Lussier, Barbara Connolly, Judy Volker, Christine Moss, Ann Marie Bailey, Janet Harris and Mary Finn.

DASA Buys Audio Firm

Andover's DASA Corp. has purchased the assets of TEL-A-DEX Corp., a West Coast firm which produces audio information systems for public use, it was announced today by Richard S. Leghorn, DASA president. TEL-A-DEX was a subsidiary of SDS Data Systems, Pomona, Calif. The transaction involved the exchange of cash and DASA common stock, both in undisclosed amounts.

Typical installations of TEL-A-DEX units are in operation at San Francisco, Los Angeles, Denver, Minneapolis, Las Vegas, and other airports. These installations in airline lobbies permit the traveler to dial a recorded announcement about the particular flight or service in which he is interested. Other installations, used in conjunction with Magically electronic dialers, are in operation at New York. An airline employee selects from descriptions written on a Magically dialer a prerecorded message in any of several languages, presses a button, and the message is immediately announced over the airport public address system. TEL-A-DEX is also used as a supermarket information service, where a shopper presses a button to hear prerecorded information about specific merchandise.

Great Books Topic

Voltaire's well known classic will be the springboard for discussion next Tuesday night at 7:30 in the Children's room of the library. What is funny about CANDIDE, or is it funny? What is satirized in the book? If you have been meaning to reread Candide, why not ask at the library for a copy and then come talk over your views at the discussion meeting?

By the way do you remember the words of Martin and Candide on the last page? If everyone believed as they do, who would go on crusades, fight crime and poverty, or dictators?

Children's Movies

The monthly program of color movies for boys and girls took place March 3 at the Community Room in Ballardvale. 25 children saw "Hailstones and halibut bones," "Indian boy of the south west," and "Poems for me."

During the period of building at the main library, the film programs for school age children are being held at the Ballardvale branch building on Center Street at 4 p.m. on the first Thursday of each month.

The next program will be April 7 and will include "The Doughnut," and "Squeaky the Squirrel."

Lions and Elephants

The story theme selected by Miss Elizabeth Russell for Saturday morning stories in the Children's room is "Lions and Elephants, too." She plans to tell "Androcles and the Lion," "The Modern Story" by Daugherty "Andy and the Lion," and "Sojo" by Erick Berry.

Boys and girls of school age are invited to be at the children's room by ten o'clock for an hour of storytelling by the library's supervisor of children's services.

A meeting of all Confraternity

DOWN THE YEARS

hill St., Frye Village.

James Salta, proprietor of the Andover Candy Kitchen, has purchased from Michael F. Lane of Lawrence the tobacco and candy store located at 578 Essex St., Lawrence, near the transfer station.

Mrs. Agnes Gordon of Kyoto, Japan, is spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Joseph W.
Smith on Central St.

25 Years Ago - March, 1941

The 1-yr Rubber whistle will blow for every $100 reported raised Saturday in a one day drive for the Andover Rolling Kitchen for Britain. The idea is to raise $1,700 to help the hungry boys and girls of Britain.

Think of how Andover over in Hampshire, England, is going to feel when Andover and North Andover in Massachusetts have finally raised $6,500 to complete the fund for the purchase of a Spitfire plane. Last week Selectman Roy E. Hardy informed the Mayo Mayor of Andover that $2,000 had already been collected, and yesterday morning Roy received this cable: "Andover, Hampshire, delighted your grand news, Bell, Mayor."

Couple Plans Sunday Service

Mr. and Mrs. William Scheerer of Andover will present an original service Sunday morning at the Unitarian Universalist Church on the theme "Future Shock."

Using material and references relative to conditions in the future society the Scheerers will quote and adapt material from "The Future as a Way of Life" by Alvin Toffer; "Honest To God" by John A. T. Robinson, "Brave New World" by Aldous Huxley and others. Special music during the presentation will include "Original Sin" by John Lewis, "The Jazz
Suite on the Mass Texts" by Paul Horn.

Mr. Scheerer is employed with Bell Labs and is on various church committees. Mrs. Scheerer is a graduate of Syracuse University, a member of the League of Women Voters, Wide Horizons and other community organizations.

Others of the congregation participating in the program include Mrs. Larry Jacobson, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Lander, John Maxwell,
Rev. Keith Munson, Mrs. Peter Olney and Robert Goodwin and the choir.

10 Years Ago - March, 1956

Interest zooms in Monday's election as 15 candidates battle for five jobs, nine uncontested.
Among them are ty. Walter E.
Mondale for School Committee,
William V. Emmons for selectman and assessor, David M. Thompson for Board of Public Works and Wilson Knipe Jr. for treasurer.

The School Committee has approved final plans for the $80,000 South School.

Alpha Phi Chi Sorority of South Church will celebrate its first meeting in the new South Church addition by holding its annual Gentlemen's Night March 8.
Edmund Kelleher, town moderator of Ipswich and an ardent opponent of town manager, will be one of two speakers appearing in tonight's debate on town manager.
Selectman Everett J. Collins said Wednesday that he would be the other "opposed" speaker.

Miss Joan Hathaway, 61 Bartles
St., is the person of the week at Punchard High.

Red Cross Offers Help

To a growing number of Americans, military service brings separation from family and home.
For every serviceman's family there is a source of help at the nearest Red Cross Chapter.

The Andover chapter's Service to Military Families Committee is chaired by Mrs. Benjamin Slade, a qualified trained case worker.
Besides Mrs. Slade, there are five other case workers available to serve Andover 24 hours a day.

The services rendered are as follows: transmittal of messages to servicemen from their families; counseling and budgeting; home visits to families of servicemen on request of families; also home visits to recently discharged servicemen and their families.

In every case, messages sent from the local chapter are directed either to Red Cross personnel in other chapters or to a Red Cross field director at military installations or in the field. Any who would like further information on Red Cross service to the military may call the Chapter House.

Bible School Is Scheduled

Andover Bible Chapel has obtained the services of Joseph Giordano of West Palm Beach, Fla. to direct a summer Vacation
Bible School from August 8 to 14.

Mr. Giordano has conducted children's camps and vacation Bible schools in many parts of the country.

The Chapel conducted a one-week school last summer with an enrollment of more than 100.
Provisions will be made for a larger enrollment for the 1966 session.

Susan Marie Bayliss, 35 Washington Ave., has been accepted for the 1966-67 school year at Robie Secretarial School, Boston.

Highway Beautification
Is DPW Hearing Subject

The move to make Massachusetts highways and scenic routes more attractive will accelerate as the weather warms and spring nears.

This is the promise of Commissioner Francis W. Sargent of the Department of Public Works, a long-time conservationist whose enthusiasm for highway beautification is probably unmatched in the Commonwealth.

Several positive steps will be taken in the next few weeks and the program will gather momentum and direction in the early spring. On March 22, for example, the auditorium of the DPW at 100 Nashua St., Boston, will be crowded with persons interested in making Massachusetts a more attractive state in which to live.

The public hearing on that date, for which pre-registration will be held on Monday, March 21, will be conducted by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads of the Department of Commerce.

The purpose of the hearing is to obtain information on which to base the promulgation of standards, criteria, rules and regulations by which the U. S. Bureau will carry out the provisions of the 1965 Highway Beautification Act. Six areas of interest will be covered at the hearing:

1. To draft a definition of an "unzoned" industrial area for junkyards.
2. To draft a definition of "unzoned" commercial or industrial area for outdoor advertising.
3. To draft criteria for size, lighting and spacing of signs permitted in commercial or industrial zones and areas.
4. To suggest a draft of national standards concerning outdoor ad-

TAX RATE CUT

of $32,000, in the budget may be effected as a result of income to be realized from interest on the Spring Grove Cemetery Perpetual Care Fund, interest on Library Trusts, dog license fees, and a reduction in the Fire Department personnel expense in the light of the opening of the West Andover Fire Station in September or October of 1966 rather than July as had been anticipated.

"These reductions and the very favorable surplus condition of the Town, particularly after the lapsing of balances in special article appropriation accounts as described and recommended in Article 27 of the 1966 Town Warrant, have suggested strongly to the Finance Committee and the Board of Selectmen that some tax relief should be given to Andover's taxpayers now.

"Therefore, it will be recommended jointly to the Annual Town Meeting on March 12 that a total of $465,000, in Free Cash be used to reduce the tax rate from $34.00 to $33.00. This recommendation will permit, along with other finance recommendations -

1. The maintenance of a sound surplus condition for future use;
2. Consideration of a budget which meets the needs of the Town both today and in the future, and -
3. A $1.00 tax reduction by virtue of the Town's own financial strength and sound administration and, in many respects, contrary to prevailing municipal experience.

"Questions have been asked of the Finance Committee and the Board of Selectmen as to the effect of the recently enacted selective sales tax on Town finances. The Town has no information at this time on the possible effect of additional State grants resulting from the tax which becomes effective on April 1st, 1966. It would be pure speculation and, perhaps, even financially dangerous guess work to anticipate anything at this time.

"The Town of Andover is in a position to meet its own problems with its own resources. When and if any additional assistance is given to us, it will be much in the nature of a windfall - a very pleasing and beneficial one. The Finance Committee and the Board of Selectmen feel that their recommendation on the 1966 Tax Rate is based upon real and hard facts and is in keeping with the prudent financial policies followed by the Town of Andover over these many years."

Received Telegram

Sen. Ted Kennedy (D-Mass.) notified Town Manager Richard Bowen Wednesday that Andover will receive $52,500 from the Department of Housing and Urban Development to cover the cost of initial planning for a new school.

The Federal grant was sought to permit Manager Bowen to carry out his announced intention of having plans ready and bids in before Town Meeting is approached for school building appropriations.

He said last year that when plans for the new high school were being considered he feels the traditional method of making appropriations on the basis of estimates is unrealistic. His idea is to approach Town Meeting in the future with alternatives and firm bids for each.

John M. Murray, 171 Woburn St., was named a trustee of the Cornell Wood and Coal Fund by Town Meeting Saturday. Revenues from this fund are used to provide for needy families, according to the town accountant's office.

The selectmen have drawn names of these two jurors to serve as follows: Edith E. Knight, 1 Stratford Rd., Lawrence District Court, April 1; Harry A. Buchelder, 32 Foster Pond Rd., Salem Court, April 1.

Town Counsel Frederic S. O'Brien cut short public discussion of his pay for the post at Town Meeting Saturday by telling voters he is satisfied with the $4,000 he has been getting. The town manager requested a $1,000 increase for O'Brien but the Finance Committee rejected the salary hike. One member was interested in an explanation.
